It Invades Efficiett City and Create's Consternation.

Residents of Ellicott City and vicinity were greatly alarmed Saturday last at the appearance of a mad dog, and since in consequence of its vicious attacks, the canine family hereabouts is diminished by at least a score. The beast proved to be a valuable collie belonging to Mr. C. P. Montague, near Hehester, from whose premises it disappeared two days previous. The frenzied actions of the dog were first noticed on the farm of Mr. John Geison where it attacked a horse and afterwards Mr. Geisen's children, on Saturday morning. Then it was seen at Mr. William Bach's Hotel, on the Frederick pike, a mile below here, where it bit a valuable dog. It then proceeded up the pike, attacking people logs, horses and even chickens, some of the last named being killed out-right by the frenzied brute. It then passed or to the farm of Mr. Nathaniel Davis, at Hilton, and seized a young calf which was tied in the yard. Mr. Lee Peddicord, a son-in-law of Mr. Davis, was attacted by the bleating of the calf, and it was with considerable difficulty that he could free the young animal from the sharp rangs of the rabid beast. The brute then, after biting two dogs there, made a rush for Mr. Davis, who was saved only by a blow from a cudgel in the hands of his son-in-law. The mad beast was next seen in Ellicott City, having gone into the carriage making shop of Mr. B. Meilor. Suspecting something wrong the animal was driven out and he immediately commenced a warupon everything living that came in his Harry C. Griffith's residence but fortunately finding no one did not remain, The residents in the vicinity by this time were thoroughly aroused. The furious brute at this juncture seemed anxious to escape from the street. He was followed outside the city limits by Messrs. Jos. H. Leishear, Jr., Thomas Kirby and Stephen and Leonard Hillsinger where it was dispatched with shot guns. Just how many dogs had been bitten it was impossible to tell, but it is known that quite a number were attacked.

A Ground Hog Colony.

Two miles west of Ellicott City, bordering the l'atapsco, there is a considerable acreage of wild, unfrequented country, in which vast numbers of groundhogs make their homes. For a long men here to go annually to these grounds and spend a day hunting and killing these weather prognosticators. The month of July is the time when the young brood has attained nearly its full growth, and when the hunting is brisk. Several Ellicott City sportsmen who visited these grounds last week report killing numbers of the animals. A gentleman who was on Saturday watching near a burrow there with hi gun for the game, says that he counted as many as twenty one of these animals frisking around at one time about the thicket. The younger groundhogs are by many persons prepared and eaten, and is considered a great delicacy.

GLENWOOD, July 11 .-- The Union Chapel Children's Day exercises, which were postponed some time ago to July 1, must have been very gratifying to its superintendent, Mrs. Wm. II. Forsythe, for the manner in which the scholars acquitted themselves. The collection both by the children and those attending was a very liberal one. The church was very tastefully trimmed. The Mathews memorial window at the back of the pulpit adds very much to the appearance. The program for the day was perfect, after which Professor Ward, of the Western Maryland College, addressed the children. The Union Mite Society had its regular meeting on Saturday last at Mr. Charles W. Hammond's. In the absence of its regular secretary Miss Katie Mathews was appointed by the president to fill her place. To Abolish the Tramp Nuisance. The most unique proposition for the suppression of the "tramp," of whom so much has been written since the commonweal movement was inaugurated, comes from E. Hofer, a California philosopher. Mr. Hofer proposes to organize "tramp communities," in which the professional tramp shall be subject to vigorous law, the first of which is work. Deprived of citizenship and freedom, the inhabitants of each "trampery" shall be forced to solve by means of hoe and spade the problem of his own living. Intoxicants and tobacco are to be unknown quantities

while regular bathing and cleanly attire

will be rigidly enforced. The proposition provides for State and county control of the tramp communities.

Last June, Dick Crawford brought his twelve months old child, suffering from infantile diarrhoea, to me. It had been usual treatment in such cases but with out benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds I then started the father to giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Before one bottle marked improvement was seen and its continued use cured the child. Its weakness and puny constitution disappeared and its father and myself believe the child's life was saved by this Remedy.

Deafness Can't be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets in lamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entire ly closed, deafness is the result, and inless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. THE TRUTH, have a distinct policy, well outlined and hew close to that line, be it partisan, religious, or independent. It should be truthful. Its criticisms ion of selfish or personal motives You The great increase of the receipts at gentlemen of the pen, are the great educamorality of the community is improved The First of a Series of Thursday Evening and in a great measure shaped by you. Hence the importance of the truth. I don't under estimate man's fallibility. I know he is prone to err as the sparks are to fly upwards. But as editors of papers, that are to be sent to every household, read by many whose knowledge of men and measures are entirely derived from this source, it becomes all important as I have said, that your criticisms should be just, or sooner or later you will come to grief. The mass of the people are neither blind nor dumb. They may be deadened for a time but when the awakening comes woe to the deceiver. I have been prompted to write this after carefully eading the editorials of many of our leading papers of both parties on the tariff question.

The true merits of this bill have with but few exceptions never been honestly discussed. Leaders of both the great parties are slandered, their motives imseached, and attempts are made to imoress upon the reading public that our public men are all dishonest and not to be trusted. What follows? Insubordination, revolt and distrust. This is what the Anarchists have aimed at-the over-turning of all established society. May it not be that this almost civil war (we are on the eve of) has been kindled by this personal denunciation of our leaders—a deadly poison sown too often by the press. Our chosen rulers must be espected no matter how much we may differ from them politically. Laws and the rights of individuals must be protected no matter at what cost or our great and glorious republic will become a jeer of monarchy and jest of high Heaven. As an illustration of the kind of work done and published to excite the people, our Senior Senator, the recognized and chosen leader of the great Democratic party, is denounced as a traitor, his motives declared all selfish and in the interest of the rich, by a paper that for half a century has been a household authority upon great economic questions and up to recent date considered religiously honest and the champion of fair play. This denunciation coming from this itherto reliable paper produced a demorlizing condition that was approaching open party revolt and distrust. At that critical period the clear bugle notes of your paper. THE TIMES, was heard chalenging this modern Goliah to prove the charge. Truth is mighty and will prevail. The rural press all over the State fell promptly into line. The selfish and inpatriotic motives of this Goliah of liars was exposed and the cloud that was attempted to be thrown over one of the purest and as I believe, one of the greatest statesmen this State ever produced, vas dispelled. You, gentlemen of the press, figuratively speaking are the lawyers in the case, the people are the urors. Address them as honest, intelligent men. They may not know all the honored the occasion with their rendering an impartial judgment. State of the fluid can be distinctly traced along the law and the facts; their verdict in ninety and nine times in a hundred will its beauty. Yours,

An elegant collation was served at eleven o'clock. The diningroom decorations were unique. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Gambrill, Mr. T. CLEAN WORK BY THE LIGHTNING. An exhibition of the force of lightning occured at "Ventura," the country home of Mr. Thomas Hill, near Baltimore, on the 6th inst. In the midst of the storm a crash of thunder was heard, followed by a sharp, splitting sound, and the family saw a stately South Carolina poplar that stood on the lawn, twenty-five yards from the dwelling, riven by the bolt. The work of destruction was curious. Two holes in the trunk-one thirty-five feet from the ground and the other, lower down, where a limb joins the body of the tree-are visible. The current divided the trunk of the poplar nice points of law but are capable of often split with a sharp tool. The path at the time of his death. the bark. > To INCREASE THE ARMY .- Military authorities in Congress contemplate urging at an early day an increase of the standing army to 30,000. This is wholly independent of the present strike, and of Representative Draper's resolution for an increase of the army, as the proposed addition of 5000 men is due to a desire permanently to benefit the service. In view of the strike the bill for an increase is likely to be deferred for a time. It is possible, however, that when the Senate considers the army appropriation bill the question of increase may come up. In any event, however, leading members of the House Military Committee will at an early day present a plan for a standing army on a 30,000
